COFFEE

Coffee Brewing Methods

FRENCH PRESS

The French Press is the simplest of all brewing systems, where coarsely ground beans meet hot water right off the boil. The right temperature (92–96°C, 195–205°F) brings the optimal extraction power for the essential oils in the beans to develop their full flavor profile in just four minutes. An easy press on the plunger locks the grinds at the bottom of the glass carafe and stops the brewing process.

POUR OVER

The Pour Over brew method features a fine mesh stainless steel filter that eliminates need for paper filters. Paper filters actually absorb the coffee's essential oils hence robbing coffee of true flavor, plus no paper filter means no waste!

VACUUM/SIPHON

The vacuum/siphon brew method has fascinated generations of coffee drinkers with its theatrical technique. Water heats in the lower chamber, creating vapor pressure that forces the boiling water up to mix with coffee grounds. The coffee maker is then removed from the heat and vacuum pressure draws the brewed coffee downward through a strainer, and into the bottom chamber for serving.

COLD BREW

Quality cold brewed coffee can be made using essentially the same French Press steps. Instead of hot water, add filtered water at room temperature and stir. Place the lid on the carafe and let brew for 12–24 hours at room temperature or in your refrigerator.

Coffee Filters

NO CAPSULES, NO PAPER FILTERS, NO WASTE

POUR OVER FILTER

BODUM® has developed a completely new stainless steel filter for use with our POUR OVER coffee makers.

We have increased the number of holes compared to the old filter but made them much smaller, allowing all the natural oils and nutrients to pass through while keeping the grounds out of your cup.

FRENCH PRESS PLUNGER

The French Press plunger prevents ground beans escaping when the coffee is poured.

All details are made of stainless steel, this makes them very durable. The parts are detachable and easy to clean. You can wash them without getting rusty.

French Press

The French Press is the simplest of all brewing systems, where coarsely ground beans meet hot water right off the boil. If you want to brew brilliant coffee that's bursting with flavor, look no further than our French Press coffee makers.

TEA

TEA PRESS

MAXIMUM TASTE, ZERO WASTE

The Tea Press utilizes the same brewing system as the French Press to allow for full control of the tea steeping process.

TEA PRESS

With this unique system your tea is brewed precisely to your desired strength and aroma. Once your preferred coloring and strength is reached, you simply press down the plunger and seal the tea leaves into the bottom part of the filter that has no holes. This makes the brewing process stop with one easy push and you can discard or re-use the tea leaves after you have enjoyed your beverage.

NOTE

All loose leaf teas are suitable for the BODUM® Tea Press. The Tea Press works best with fruit teas and black tea because it interrupts the brewing process – avoiding bitterness.

We developed the Tea Press in collaboration with the English Tea Council over 30 years ago and we've been perfecting it ever since.

DRINKWARE

Double wall glasses

BODUM® premiered its line of double wall glasses in 2004. The inventive design coupled with timeliness style made these glasses an instant classic. Over the past years the collection has earned numerous awards and expanded to include a variety of styles & sizes.

Made of heat-resistant borosilicate glass and individually mouth-blown by expert artisans, the double wall construction creates a highly effective layer of insulation. Hot drinks stay hot longer while the glass remains cool to the touch, and cold drinks stay cold without producing messy condensation. The result is endless serving possibilities. The patent pending hydrophobic silicone vent at the bottom of each glass equalizes pressure within the walls of the glass with the outside air pressure. The glass will self-adjust to any temperature liquid, and the vent is only permeable to air, not water, so whether your beverage is hot or cold it will never allow fluids into the interior of the glass layers.

The BODUM® Double Wall Glasses have won the following awards:

BISTRO

DOUBLE WALL MUGS AND GLASSES

Then we have Veloso, a natural processed coffee from Minas Gerais, Brazil. It's the perfect collection of beans from a region that fulfil the quality standards that we search for in a Brazilian coffee. This BODUM®'s Best combination will leave a memorable impression on your taste buds!

Committed to sustainability, we use the innovative CO2 decaffeination process, where green beans are soaked in pure water and CO2 removes the caffeine naturally, preserving the coffee's taste. Perfect for those sensitive to caffeine or needing a break from it, this rich, chocolaty coffee will wake up your taste buds without keeping you awake.

Dutra, Brazil

MATAS DE MINAS, BRAZIL

This single-origin coffee hits all the traditional rich and creamy Brazilian notes, but in true BODUM® style, we sought out small-scale producers. Our search led us to Fazendas Dutra, a family-run, organic farm in Matas de Minas. Passionate about sustainability and specialty grade coffee, they cultivate coffee harmoniously with the environment, using hand-harvesting, solar energy, and eucalyptus trees for drying. This artisanal process yields some of Brazil's best coffee. Expect chocolaty notes, a lingering aftertaste of vanilla, caramel, milk chocolate, and a soft, buttery mouthfeel.
